Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Theme/Call To Worship

As a Eucharistic people, we are called to live and be in community with each other in a way that reflects the reality that we are nourished by the body and blood of Christ.

Introduction To The Word

Proverbs 9:1-6: In the first reading taken from the Book of Proverbs, wisdom is personified as a matron who offers food and drink to the humble and unlearned. Food and drink—the staples of life—are offered as a means of communicating God's desire to reach us at our most basic level on a day-to-day basis. Jesus may well have had divine wisdom as food and drink in mind when he spoke to the Jewish people of eating his flesh and drinking his blood.

Ephesians 5:15-20: The second reading taken from Paul's Letter to the Ephesians deals with Christian moral behavior and places a heavy emphasis on the importance of wisdom.

John 6:51-58: The final line from last Sunday's Gospel reading is the first line for today's Gospel: "I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world." Jesus' words are repeated for two consecutive Sundays because it offers the heart of the revelation in the "bread of life" discourse.
